

Mjellma Carabregu Vokshi is a Teaching Assistant at the Faculty of Economics, University of Prishtina "Hasan Prishtina" in Kosovo, Department of Economics. Ms. Carabregu Vokshi attended a program on higher education in the United States during 2017 through the Open World Leadership Program. Her experience and academic development in the U.S. has been transmitted in Kosovo in the form of numerous contributions through constant engagement with Kosovo United States Alumni (KUSA). She has received KUSA Alumni Award of the Year in 2018. Her professional experience includes development and implementation of different projects on higher education, funded by different international organizations: European Commission, Council of Europe, USAID, U.S. Embassy, Austrian Government etc.